

THE SATURN DIARIES

A new series based on the bestselling memoir by Cardy B ☆

LOGLINE

Rebecca, aka Bex, lives the quintessential Manhattan life; on the outside she's the glamorous, high-fashion femme with the perfect wife and job. But behind closed doors she battles debilitating personal demons and addiction. When the facade of her perfect life falls apart and she finds herself heartbroken and unemployed, she returns to her childhood love of Tarot, sparking an unexpected journey of self-discovery.

THE TOWER

THE SHOW

At the age of thirty-one, Bex's seemingly perfect life comes crashing down when Saturn's Return—a cosmic astrological transit—shakes her to the core. Once a rebellious outcast from rural Pennsylvania, Bex has achieved her dream of becoming a high-powered executive in Manhattan's fashion world. With celebrity friends, a glamorous lifestyle, and a picture - perfect marriage, her life is the epitome of Instagram envy.

But beneath the flawless surface, her reality is on the brink of collapse. When her marriage, career, and sense of self-identity start to unravel, Rebecca is forced to confront her battles with depression, anxiety, and substance abuse.

As she embarks on a deeply personal journey of self-recovery, Rebecca revisits a long-forgotten childhood passion: tarot cards.

What begins as a nostalgic escape transforms into a powerful reconnection with her intuition, leading her to unexpected and transformative experiences—whether she's squashing grapes for a foot-fetish wine ad on Craigslist, or embarking on a solo trek through the Costa Rican jungle for an Ayahuasca ceremony.

The Saturn Diaries is a raw, magical, and often hilarious exploration of personal transformation.

Season One follows Rebecca's high-stakes journey through cosmic reckoning, self-discovery, and the surprising ways the universe guides her back to her true self, all with the support of her closest friends and some unexpected guides along the way.

As she embraces the chaos of her Saturn Return, Rebecca learns that the path to healing starts from within—one tarot reading at a time.

CHARACTERS

Rebecca always stood out in rural Pennsylvania—a witchy, outcast who found solace in the occult section of the bookstore while everyone else worshipped football and cheerleaders. Fast forward, and now she’s “Bex,” a high-powered fashion executive living the dream in New York City. She has the perfect job, a beautiful wife, and a life most would envy. But behind the glossy exterior, Bex is deeply unhappy, trapped in a work-hard, party-harder cycle that leaves her feeling empty.

When her marriage crumbles, she loses her job, and her once-perfect life falls apart, Bex is forced to confront the truth: she’s lost herself. With nothing left but the desire to rediscover her purpose, Bex embarks on a journey back to her roots, reconnecting with her childhood love of magic and the mystical. Through this process, she begins to reclaim her true self, learning that real fulfillment comes from within, not from chasing someone else’s idea of success.

We’ll watch Bex figure out how to heal herself - and others - through her magical, always fashionable, no-bullshit point of view.

THE FRIENDS

ANDY
PAGE OF WANDS

CHLOE
KING OF PENTACLES

SAMI
QUEEN OF CUPS

AMANDA
KING OF SWORDS

Aka The King of Brows, Andy is a sassy gay male makeup artist, obsessed with good grooming and hot men. The friend who's always there w a post hangover latte or an intro to a hot mess socialite cougar to ease his besties post divorce heartache.

Chloe is cool girl with a modern Joan Jett aesthetic and startup entrepreneur vibes. An eternal optimist who is never without her vape. Navigating her own chaotic dating life, she always gives the best advice, even if she doesn't take it herself.

Suburban Doctor and former lingerie football league player. The reasonable, grounded one who has everyone's location pin, making sure Rebecca comes home alive from midnight seances and bicurious lady sex parties.

Rebecca's ex-wife. Amanda is a funny, kind, smart, girl-next-door type, who knows how to expertly deliver truth-bombs. She remains one of Rebecca's best friends after their divorce due to (and sometimes in spite of) her ability to always shine light on the truth when needed.

THE DEVIL WEARS GAULTIER

SAMPLE EPISODE

Bex returns to her empty apartment after a difficult day, only to find that her ex, Amanda, has taken most of the essentials—even the coffee machine. Frustrated and exhausted, she heads out to replace what's missing, when her wealthy actress friend, Gia, calls and invites her and their makeup artist friend, Andy, to lunch—a much-needed distraction from her troubles.

At lunch, Andy mentions that he wants to set Bex up with his friend Melissa, a straight woman curious about a "lady experience." Normally, Bex wouldn't waste her time on a bi-curious escapade, but eager for some diversion, she agrees. That evening, Bex, Gia, and Andy attend an industry event where the signature drink is a questionably blue martini. Maybe it's the booze, but when Bex meets Melissa, she's suddenly woozy with infatuation. Unable to control themselves, they sneak off to the bathroom.

Bex and Melissa's suspiciously long absence puts Gia on high alert. Later, she pulls Bex aside, warning her not to get too involved. "She's not looking for what you are," Gia cautions, "and she's not exactly who she says she is."

SOUR GRAPES

SAMPLE EPISODE

Several months after her life implodes, Bex is on the hunt for a new apartment while enduring the steady decline of her current living situation—complete with cockroaches, rat holes, and a hazardous carbon monoxide leak. At her wit's end, Bex moves in with her friends and fashion blog gurlies, Erica and Adelaide, aka The Gallivanter Girls.

Strapped for cash, Bex and the Gallivanter Girls turn to Craigslist for odd jobs, landing a bizarre grape-stomping gig just to make ends meet. The experience is even weirder than expected, featuring a shady character named Viper, pole-dancing shoes, and grape stomping to Stevie Wonder. Shortly after, Bex secures a promising freelance gig as a lingerie designer with a $3,000 deposit—the most money she's seen in a long time. As the chaos around her continues, Bex finally begins to feel a sense of hope that things might be turning around.

IN COSTA RICA WE WEAR WHITE

SAMPLE EPISODE

Plagued by the recurring temptation to shirk her newfound sobriety and self-sabotage, Bex is determined to level up her healing journey. She decides to embark on a retreat in Costa Rica to take part in an ayahuasca ceremony.

During her initial dose, Bex experiences beautiful geometric patterns and a monkey that beckons her deeper into the jungle, signaling a mostly positive start. However, she knows her true healing requires facing the darkness within.

Before the second ceremony, Rebecca asks the universe to reveal everything she needs to heal. What begins as sacred geometry quickly shifts to painful flashbacks—reliving the harm she's done to herself and others. Overwhelmed with grief, a shaman helps her surrender to the medicine. Throughout the night, she sees her friends and family, from both this life and previous ones, gaining forgiveness and a newfound gratitude for those around her.

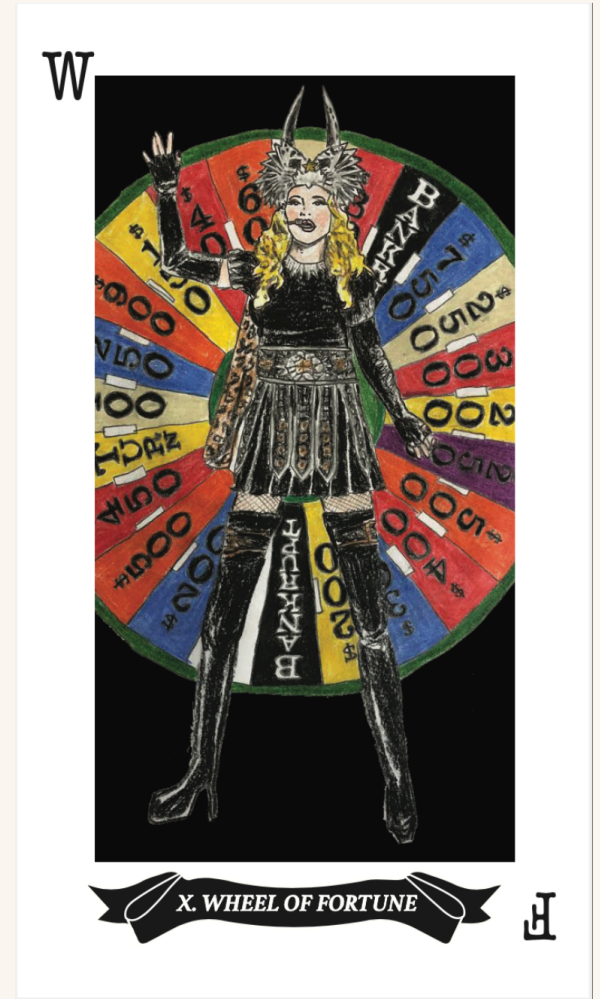

Finally, Bex has a profound vision of her late friend Justin, bringing her comfort, closure, and a new dedication to healing herself - and others.

BEYOND SEASON ONE

As the world changes dramatically around her, so does Bex. In subsequent seasons of The Saturn Diaries, Bex continues her personal journey while stepping into a new role as a healer for others. The work of self-healing, however, is never truly finished—Bex discovers that helping her clients through tarot readings and spiritual guidance only brings more layers of her own life to the surface. As she supports others in navigating their crises—whether it's a relationship falling apart, a career in flux, or grappling with personal identity—Bex is confronted with mirrored challenges in her own life.

Her clients' stories often reflect the struggles of Bex and her close-knit circle of friends, keeping the emotional stakes high. Each season deepens the exploration of healing, showing us that growth is ongoing and ever-evolving. Through her work, Bex continues to unearth new parts of herself, moving through past trauma and finding new levels of self-acceptance and understanding.

COMPS

Female Driven Flawed AF Protagonist Healing after tragedy Dynamic Female Friendships

EVERYONE NEEDS A LITTLE MAGIC

The Saturn Diaries is well-positioned for today's market, blending LGBTQ+ representation with the rising enthusiasm for spirituality, tarot, and astrology. It offers a perfect balance of fun and uplifting entertainment while tackling serious themes like identity and mental health in a grounded, relatable way. By mixing magic, personal growth, and humor, the show speaks to modern audiences craving both depth and lightheartedness in their storytelling.

BASED ON THE BEST SELLING MEMOIR

#1 In Occult &

#4 in LGBTQ+ Memoirs on amazon

"A funny, confessional remembrance of finding redefinition in the cards." - Kirkus

"A binge-worthy read for the magically inclined."

ABOUT THE REAL-LIFE BEX

Rebecca Szymczak - aka Cardsy B - is an author, intuitive tarot reader, and wellness witch. Her work has been featured in Nylon, Elle, Bustle, Forbes, and The Zoe Report. She has collaborated with global brands like Gucci, BCBG MaxAzria, and HULU.

She writes tarot-scope columns for various magazines and digital platforms and works as the "Wellness Witch in Residence" at NYC's The Algonquin Hotel. She also hosts the award-winning Hex and the City podcast and is author of the acclaimed memoir The Saturn Diaries: A Modern Day Grimoire.

CONTACT

REBECCA SZYMCZAK

rebecca.szymczak@gmail.com

